Subject of the Disclosure

Announcement of Tetragon Energy Ltd., Operator of SC 80 on the increase in the prospective resource estimate of the Halcon Exploration Prospect

Background/Description of the Disclosure

The Philodrill Corporation has been informed by Tetragon Energy Ltd. (“Tetragon”), operator of Service Contract 80 (“SC 80”) in the Sulu Sea, Philippines, of its disclosure to the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX) of the significant increase in the prospective resource estimate of the Halcon exploration prospect in the Philippines located within SC 80.

The Halcon prospect Gross 2U (P50) Prospective Resource has increased from 2.6 TCF of recoverable gas to 8.0 TCF of recoverable gas, with a Gross 1U (P90) increase from 188 bcf to 1.7 TCF and a Gross 3U increase from 19.9 TCF to 22.6 TCF. In addition, the geological chance of success has improved from 18% to 24%.

This increase follows a more detailed evaluation of the available seismic data obtained from the Philippines Department of Energy and the engagement of a sedimentological expert to compare recent analogous discoveries in nearby basins. ENI and Petronas have made recent discoveries in the deep waters of Indonesian and Malaysian Borneo, which Tetragon believes are geologically analogous to Tetragon's acreage in the deep waters of Borneo, Philippines. Tetragon believes that the 5TCF GIIP and 400 million barrels of condensate Geng North discovery made by ENI in 2023 is highly analogous to the Halcon prospect in SC-80.

The Philodrill Corporation holds a 12.5% participating interest in SC 80. SC 80 is one of the two Service Contracts awarded under the Philippine Conventional Energy Contracting Program ("PCECP"), marking the first-ever co-managed energy contracts between the national government and the Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao ("BARMM"). The other members of the consortium are Tetragon Energy Ltd, Sunda Energy Ltd., and PXP Energy.

This disclosure has been passed upon and approved by the Department of Energy, through the Office of Undersecretary Alessandro O.
